System Failures and Legal Struggles

My name is Ricky Stebbins. I built this to expose the truth no one recorded. I was abused, ignored, misdiagnosed, and erased by the systems meant to protect me. This archive exists because I refused to be forgotten. It's not for healing. It's not for pity. It's evidence. It's survival. If I disappear, this stays. Every failure, every lie, every silence, I kept the receipts. Now they're all here. Documented. Permanent.

What to expect

1 We review your report

Our specialists in the Civil Rights Division carefully read every report to identify civil rights violations, spot trends, and determine if we have authority to help with your report.

2 Our specialists determine the next step

We may decide to:
Open an investigation if your case falls within the legal authority of the Justice Department.
Collect more information before we can take any further steps.
Recommend another government agency that can properly handle your report. If we will let you know.
In some cases, we may determine that we don't have legal authority to handle your report and will recommend that you seek help from a private lawyer or local legal aid organization.

3 When possible, we will follow up with you

We do our best to let you know about the outcome of our review. However, we may not always be able to provide you with updates because:
We're actually awaiting an answer from another agency related to your report.
We're working and dealing with many reports at the same time.
If we're able to respond, we will contact you using the contact information you provided on this report. Depending on the type of report, response times can vary. If you need to reach us about your report, please refer to your report number when speaking to us. There is how we keep track of your submission.

What you can do next

1 Contact local legal aid organizations or a lawyer if you haven't already

Legal aid offices or members of bar associations in your state may be able to help you with your issue.
Legal Services for Americans for Legal Aid (LSA) can help you find a legal aid lawyer in your area. Visit <https://www.lsa-legal.org/>

2 Get help immediately if you are in danger

If you're in an incident where you or someone else has experienced or is still experiencing physical harm or violence, or you're in immediate danger, please call 911 and contact the police.
