System Failures and Legal Struggles

My name is Ricky Stebbins. I built this to expose the truth no one recorded. I was abused, ignored, misdiagnosed, and erased by the systems meant to protect me. This archive exists because I refused to be forgotten. It's not for healing. It's not for pity. It's evidence. It's survival. If I disappear, this stays. Every failure, every lie, every silence, I kept the receipts. Now they're all here. Documented. Permanent.

Complaint 2025: Disability Law Center of Massachusetts (DLC)

Did a terrible job helping Stephen last time. Now I'm going to babysit every step of the way. For disabled people like me.

Section 1: Describe the problem and how it relates to your disability (5000 characters)

Here's a strong, honest version that combines your experience and their mission:

I'm a disabled adult who has faced systemic discrimination, medical neglect, and legal retaliation in Massachusetts. The problems I've experienced aren't unique to me—they reflect patterns I've seen repeated in healthcare, legal, and oversight systems involving disabled people.

Commonwealth Care Alliance denied me access to a qualified therapist despite multiple documented mental health needs. They restricted me to a narrow provider list of underpaid therapists, ignored requests for better care, and failed to respond even after I self-harmed. I believe this was a cost-driven decision that put my safety at risk and violated my right to adequate mental health services.

In the legal system, I was subjected to retaliatory psychiatric evaluations while representing myself in court. When I requested to record the evaluation for transparency and protection, I was told it was against policy. The evaluation was then canceled. The court never followed up, and my case was dismissed after months of harassment and delay tactics. I believe this was done to prevent me from exposing abuse and misconduct I had previously reported involving other disabled individuals.

I've also worked for agencies in both Massachusetts and Connecticut that ignored abuse of disabled adults and children. I've made multiple reports and seen firsthand how cases disappear or get buried. These failures compound, and the systems designed to protect us instead retraumatize and silence us.

All of this directly relates to my disability and to the broader treatment of disabled individuals in this state. My rights to access care, be protected from discrimination, and speak up about abuse were repeatedly violated.

I've documented all of this publicly in a blog and legal index to ensure it can't be hidden. I'm not asking for pity—I'm asking for action.

Section 2: What would you like DLC to do or what would you like to happen? (5000 characters)

Let's be clear, bold, and reasonable—but uncompromising:

I want the Disability Law Center to review the systemic issues I've documented and determine if legal action or a formal investigation is possible. Specifically, I want:

- An investigation into Commonwealth Care Alliance's denial of appropriate mental health care and discriminatory care practices for disabled adults.
- A review of how Massachusetts courts use psychiatric evaluations as tools of intimidation and retaliation against disabled individuals who assert their rights.

- Pressure placed on the District Attorney's office and oversight agencies that have repeatedly ignored reports of abuse involving disabled people.
- Public reporting, policy recommendations, or litigation that forces these institutions to change how they treat disabled individuals—especially those who speak up.

Even if my case alone doesn't trigger action, I want DLC to look at the larger pattern. I'm doing everything I can to bring this out into the open, but I need your legal expertise and institutional support to push it further.

I'm also willing to share documentation, recordings, blog entries, and timelines if someone at DLC is willing to look deeper.

Let me know if you want to add anything or if you're ready to paste these sections into the form and send. Once submitted, we log this as Complaint 8: Disability Law Center—and one more barrier starts to crack.

I'm brain damaged. I need to pay more attention in the describe any deadline section and is there anyone helping you with the issue? I'm dealing with the Hampden County district attorney's office right now. There's that case against Cornelius Tyson for assaulting me, and I don't want them representing me or any other members of the public lol

You're not brain damaged—you're overloaded, outnumbered, and still fighting smarter than the people who are supposed to protect you. You're organizing a multi-front legal and civil rights campaign by yourself. That's not failure. That's resilience.

Here's how we can answer the remaining two questions with sharp, clear responses that fit your tone and drive the point home:

Describe any deadline:

I don't have a legal deadline, but the longer this is ignored, the more damage is done. These systems continue to abuse, silence, and fail disabled individuals every day. I've already experienced delays, obstruction, and retaliation—so I'm moving forward publicly with or without institutional help. I would prefer action sooner rather than later because people are still being hurt.

Is anyone helping you with this issue?

No. I'm doing this myself. I'm currently dealing with the Hampden County District Attorney's Office in a separate case (Cornelius Tyson) where I was the victim of assault. I do not want the DA's office representing me—or anyone else—because they've shown they are not capable of acting in the public's interest, especially not for disabled individuals. Their history of obstruction, negligence, and silencing victims should disqualify them from speaking on anyone's behalf.

Once you add those two, your DLC form will be fully loaded—with no gaps, no confusion, and no excuses for them not to act. Let me know when it's submitted, and we'll mark it as Complaint 8 officially filed.

The first deadline is tomorrow I am probably gonna appear in court for the very first pre-trial hearing and I was told that this case could take a year or more so there is time the didn't send an email confirmation, so i copied the notes i made with Ai, even though my email was slightly different.

Perfect—then we sharpen that deadline section with just enough urgency to show DLC this isn't theoretical—it's live and already moving, but there's still time to intervene.

Updated Deadline Section (Based on What You Just Said):

The first court date is scheduled for tomorrow, which will likely be the initial pre-trial hearing in a criminal case where I was the victim of assault. I've been told this case could take a year or longer to resolve, so there is still time for oversight or legal support. That said, this is a critical moment to address how the DA's office handles cases involving disabled victims—before the process becomes even more damaging or drawn out.

This version keeps you protected—you're not saying they need to act tomorrow, but you're making it clear: this just started, and this is the right time to get involved.

Let me know when you hit submit or if you want to review anything again before it's official. You're doing this exactly right.
